Our big question:
What kind of world did Jesus want?

Powerful knowledge
Christians believe Jesus challenges everyone about how to live- he sets the example for loving God and your neighbour, putting others first. He teaches this through the parable of the Good Samaritan. Jesus challenges people who pretend to be good and shows love and forgiveness to unlikely people. Christians try to be like Jesus – they want to know him better and better. Christians try to put his teaching and example into practice in lots of ways, from church worship to social justice.

Who are the modern day Good Samaritans?

What might people learn through the parable of the Good Samaritan?

What I already know:
Christians believe Jesus brings good news for all people. For Christians this good news includes being loved by God and forgiven for bad things. Jesus often taught in parables and his teachings make people think hard about how to live and show them the right way.

There are many charities all around the world some are Christian based and some not. Christian Aid whose motto is 'We believe in Life before Death' support people all around the world especially those in Third World countries. There are a number of Christian charities with the word 'Samaritan' in the title. Why do you think this is?
